Hope this helps. The House Energy and Commerce Committee has approved a single-payer health care system in California. It passed the bill out of committee by a 12-8 vote, and now heads to the full House for a vote. California is the sixth state to enact a bill guaranteeing universal health care. The single-payer legislation is in the form of a "budget stabilization" bill that would provide coverage to everyone in the state. The bill would increase taxes and fees by $54 billion annually over 10 years and requires all individuals to buy health care through the state-run Covered California exchange. The bill has attracted national attention as well as criticism from conservative groups and medical professionals who warn about the financial and logistical impacts. Rep. Adam Schiff (D-Calif.) has repeatedly stated that the bill would be paid for by an increase in taxes and fees. "[This bill] includes an increase in taxes and fees. . . . Taxes and fees paid by the middle class," Schiff said last month. "It will not be paid for by upper-income Californians, nor by any of our business interests." The Medicare-for-all bill has also been discussed in Vermont, Colorado, Oregon, Nevada, and Washington. A group of U.S. senators are pushing a Medicare-for-all bill that would have to be considered by Congress.
